Supporting the Financial Costs of Accessing Treatments

Scleroderma can lead to unexpected expenses such as costly medications, treatments, and travel to appointments.

These expenses can place a significant burden on those living with scleroderma.

The David Shea Memorial Patient Support Fund can support these financial costs.

How to Apply for Financial Support

Are you or someone you know in Atlantic Canada living with scleroderma? The David Shea Memorial Patient Support Fund may be able to provide support - reach out to us to learn more.

Expenses submitted for reimbursement must have been incurred within 12 months of the date of the application.

Or send us an email or letter (address on reverse)

What is scleroderma?

Scleroderma is a chronic and rare autoimmune disease that is life altering, life threatening, and has no cure.

It affects approximately 40,000 individuals in Canada.

"Nobody should feel alone. Our organization strives to connect with everyone in our scleroderma community in Atlantic Canada."
Jason Doucette
President, Scleroderma Atlantic

"Our family is very grateful for the financial support we received from the David Shea Memorial Patient Support Fund."
Jenny and Bob MacDonald

Who is Scleroderma Atlantic?
